About me

Founding member of multimedia design studio Lamosca sccl. (http://www.lamosca.com).

During my years at Lamosca I first directed our multimedia section and then internet section. I worked mainly in web development and multimedia applications in various formats, and in organizational and team coordination tasks.

In recent years, I have combined this main line of work with teaching at several universities.

I also built and participated in projects (and debates) for many clients, of all sizes and in almost all possible formats.

The above has allowed me to maintain a permanent state of training and learning around IT, particularly in Frontend development.

Experience

1996-2018
Coordinator and developer of web and multimedia projects at Lamosca sccl.

2014-2017
Teacher of “Html5, Css3 and contents managers” at the Seeway Design School as part of a University Diploma on Graphic and Digital Design.

Teacher for Master in Web Design. UX, UI and Prototyping at the Seeway Design School.

2013-until now
Jury member in Promsite. CDmon hosting sponsorship program.

2010-2015
I gave a number of lectures at the Elisava University School on Communication and Internet.

1994-1996
Pilot project funded by the EU on digital adaptation of university subjects. Programming and Design of the interactive CD "The Brain" in the Department of Anatomy of the Medical Faculty at the University of Barcelona.

1990-1994
Central computer services at the University of Barcelona, user assistance and teaching courses on office automation and databases.

1989-1993
